Interested in being part of a dance performance?

The Field is looking for people who would like to participate in the dance piece We Object, which will be performed in September in the frame of About Us in Wollishofen. Participation is free!

What we offer

Workshops with a team of professional dance and theater makers

Collective visit to a performance as well as backstage insight into Tanzhaus Zürich, the production center for contemporary dance

A safe space to (further) explore your creative skills and to dance your heart out

Four performances in Wollishofen as part of the program week of About Us! in September 21 www.about-us.ch

An unique experience as well as the exchange with a diverse group

About the piece

We Object is like a playground where people and things get to dance. With We Object we conduct a form of field research in which discarded objects are given new meaning on stage. The concept for this piece was created for two dancers and has since been performed several times on stage and in outdoor locations. It now gets the chance to grow further for About Us! We are curious to see how We Object will develop with a larger group of dancers and the variety of their imagination and movement qualities.

We are looking for a diverse group of non-professional performers. We welcome everyone to join us, no matter what your dance experience, age or physical abilities may be.

You can register via the following link (or via QR code below). You will find all rehearsal and performance dates there. Deadline for registration is 1 August 2021.

If you have any questions, please send an email to lucia@thefield.ch or call us via +41 76 520 32 09
